MECCA, CONSTANTINOPLE, CAIRO; STRATEGIC MOSLEM CENTERS

Three Cities Voice Appeal of Three Continents—How Mr. Yun, Eminent Korean Churchman, Began His Great Work—Minor Note Sounded From the Heart of the Congo—The Real Issue in Japan—Educated Classes Have Broken With Shintoism and Buddhism and Are Looking For Better Basis For Their Ethics and Faith—Jamaican Converts in Cuba.

BY SOUTHERN MISSIONARY NEWS BUREAU.
Ida Clyde Clarke, Editor.

The three strategic centers of the Moslem world are Mecca, Constantinople, and Cairo. A well-known missionary statesman says: "Mecca is not only the religious capital of the cradle of the Moslem faith and the birthplace of their prophet, but it is the central shrine of Islam, toward which for centuries, prayer and pilgrimages have gravitated. The whole New Testament narrative, as it is given in distorted form both in the Korean and in tradition, finds in Mecca its real environment. Adam and Eve met each other at Mt. Ararat. Eve lies buried at Jiddah. God himself appointed the place for Kaaba, and the stone is still sacred on which Abraham stood when he erected the building."

The stationary population of Mecca is only 60,000, but its importance lies more in the number of pilgrims that visit it each year. "Mecca is a challenge to faith and to Christian heroism," says Dr. Zwerner. "Mecca is the sinkhole of Islam. All witnesses agree on the flagrant immorality which prevades the streets and even the mosque of the sacred city. Mecca is the microcosm of Islam in its religious life and aspirations."

Constantinople faces two elements and two civilizations. It was founded by Constantine and beautified by Justinian, and the old city represented visibly the overthrow of paganism and the triumph of Christianity.

"As a base of missionary operations, not only upon Turkey, but upon adjacent countries as well," says Dr. Barton. "It is unexcelled. As a strategic center for Christian work, calculated directly and indirectly to reach the 200,000,000 who bear the name of the prophet of Arabia, there is no place that can compare with Constantinople; resting as it does on two continents and swaying the most mighty religious empire on earth. The population is given as 1,100,000, but of these scarcely one half are Moslems. Here the forces of Christianity and Islam are so nearly balanced that the impact of a Christianity once more dominant in the oriental churches would count as nowhere else.

Cairo is at once the capital of Egypt, the metropolis of all Africa, and the brain center of the Moslem world. The total population is 700,000, of which probably ninety per cent. is Mohammedan. Cairo has 206 mosques, not counting the smaller ones.

If Mecca is the religious center and Constantinople the political center of the Moslem world, Cairo above all things is the literary center.

"These three cities voice the appeal of three continents," says Dr. Zwerner. "Asia, Europe and Africa, to be freed from the thralldom of Mohammed and welcomed into the glorious liberty of the children of God."

FOOTBALL IN BRAZIL

A recent message from Calaguaz Brazil, where Union college is located, says:

"We have matriculated seventy-eight students this year. One young man has been converted and joined our church. At mid-day we have our worship, and at this hour I have an opportunity to speak to the whole school on matters of interest and importance to young people. Then on Saturdays I have a meeting with the boarders, who are all boys; in which I can school them in plainer language. On Sunday morning at 8 o'clock we have Sunday School with the boarders. The boys like our hymns, and have learned to sing a lot of them with good effect.

"A neighbor school invited our football team to play them on Sept. 7th, which was Sunday. I couldn't go with the boys so put every fellow on his honor and sent them alone. "The paper of the town to which they went spoke in the highest terms and the many condoned. I tell them the football or basketball field is a mighty good place to prove the practical value of the Master's words. 'Do unto others as you would have others do unto you;' and that religion is worth nothing if it can't get outside the doors of the church into every battlefield through which we have to pass."

A BIG SALE OF COAL RIGHTS

Several Thousand Acres In Webster and Hopkins Sold to Pittsburg Men.

Several thousand acres of coal privileges in the Logan, Garman and Nebo sections, have been sold to Pittsburg capitalists.

The deal was consummated through the real estate firm of J. T. Edwards & Co., of this city. E. W. L. Baker, of the Corbin county, secured options on the property some time ago and placed them in the hands of the real estate firm, who closed up a contract with the Pittsburg people a few days ago to take all the holdings.

The price paid per acre is not given out, but a large sum of money will be paid out to the farmers of Webster and Hopkins counties.

Abstractors will start at once to proving up titles and as rapidly as this is done the farmers will be paid for their coal rights.

It is understood that the Pittsburg syndicate will open mines as soon as all the details have been carried out, but it is not known where they will establish a base of operations.—Providence Enterprise.

Towel Shower

Another of the series of shows, was a towel shower given by Mrs. Henry Rogers, at her home Friday afternoon. Regardless of the inclining of the weather, about forty ladies were present, each bringing a nice towel, making a pretty display.

After a most pleasant social hour, delightful refreshments were served.

Electric Signals For L. & N.

A new electric block signal system designed to improve the safety of railroad travel will be installed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Early in the new year work will be commenced on equipping a major portion of the Kentucky division with the electric blocks. It will require from six to twelve months to complete the work, which will cost the company nearly half a million dollars. Eventually the entire L. & N. system including 4,919 miles of railroad, extending into thirteen states will be equipped with electric block signals.—Pendergastian.

NOT MERCHANTS IN GOOD FAITH

Judge R. B. Bradley Decided Against Issuance of Saloon License.

TO NORTONVILLE MEN.

Deciding in very short time that Messrs. Harrelson & Henderson were not "merchants in good faith," County Judge Bradley last Saturday refused to grant a license to these men to open a "quart" house a short distance from Nortonville.

The case was called at ten o'clock, and the courtroom was crowded by many interested in the outcome. Attorneys for the whiskey side explained the business of the men seeking the license, and as their stock of "goods" was not worth as much as $75, the judge decided that they were not in good faith and the petition dismissed.

It seems that Messrs. Harrelson & Henderson only recently purchased this stand, and the stock was made up mostly of fixtures.

Petitions were freely circulated in the district by both sides, the one by the "drys," it being claimed, having the largest number of signatures.

The Mannington applicant has failed to show up, and it is thought this question has been settled for all times.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Don't Hesitate! A Laxative is Necessary if Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad or Stomach Sour

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled.

Farmers Institute at Sebree

NINE KILLED IN BLIZZARD.

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Damage, And Much Suffering—The Snow Five Feet Deep.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—At least nine killed, hundreds of thousands of dollars damages, and extensive suffering, is the result of the blizzard today which swept the middle West.

Nine ships were ashore in the lake region, and three persons are missing.

Snow fell to the depth of five feet in some portions of the Central West.

Wire communication is crippled, and Senator Cummins and three hundred passengers are on a snow bound train at Washington, Pennsylvania.

A relief train has been sent to their rescue, and they may be rescued within the next twenty-four hours.

Smith-Littlepage.

Mr. J. W. Smith and Miss Deasle Littlepage, two popular people of the Grapevine neighborhood, drove over to Earlington Sunday afternoon and were married by Howard J. Brazzelton, at the parsonage.

Mrs. Henry W. Rogers and Miss Minnie Goodell Entertain With Towel shower

A very pleasant social event of last week was the "towel shower" given by Mrs. Henry W. Rogers and Miss Minnie Goodell at the home of the former on Farren Avenue, last Friday afternoon from two to five. About forty-five guests enjoyed the hospitality of these charming hostesses. They brought with them towels of every description to the number of sixty-seven. Little towels, big towels bath towels, face towels, dish towels and wash rags; all of them displaying the beautiful handiwork of the givers. These will be a part of the Bazaar given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church on the 9th of December.

The inclemency of the weather on the outside was no indication of gloom within, for from the time of the arrival of the first guests until the departure of the last, there was not a dull moment; the games, contests, and conversation furnished pleasure for all. In addition to these, Mrs. Coward, Mrs. Featherston, Mrs. John L. Long and Miss Sarah Cutchfield delighted all with musical numbers. The hostesses served palatable and dainty refreshments. The showers are becoming a popular feature of social life of the community, and are looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure. This one did not lose any of the flavor of the former ones, and only whetted the appetite for more.

All Trains Delayed.

New York, November 10.—Trains from the West were from one to seven hours late in reaching New York to-day, on account of storms. The Twentieth Century Limited, due at 9:40 a. m. was posted to arrive at between 3:40 and 4:40 p. m. Other New York Central trains were not as seriously delayed.

Telegraph and telephone companies reported that the center of wire demoralization was in and about Cleveland.

Snow And Sleet.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 10.—A snow sleet and windstorm swept West Virginia, a large portion of Ohio and Western and Northern Pennsylvania yesterday, crippling all means of transportation and seriously retarding wire communication.

How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I avoid them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

Cynthiana Snow-Covered.

Cynthiana, Ky., Nov. 10.—A violent snow storm, amounting to almost a blizzard fell here Saturday night and Sunday, being by far the heaviest this season. The ground is white for the first time this winter. The storm began last night about midnight and is still raging.

Until the Plumber Arrives.

While waiting for the arrival of a plumber, when the water pipes have sprung a leak, the housewife may do a little repairing herself. The water should be turned off and a solder made by mixing some whiting with common yellow soap and just enough water to form a thick paste. Apply this mixture to the leak and in a little while the water may be turned on very slowly. This spider may last a day or longer.

More Caution Needed.

An exchange tells the story of a little boy whose mother decided that he was old enough to do without her kissing by him when he was put to bed until he fell asleep. So when one night she kissed the five-year-old and told him he was a big boy and brave enough to go to sleep without his mamma and in the dark, too, he pondered the situation a moment and then said: "Well, wait a minute. I've got to say my prayers again careful."—

EAT CABBAGE, FISH SAUSAGE, NEW BREAD

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness of Upset Stomach if you'll take "Pape's Diapepsin"—Try This!

Do some foods you eat hit back —taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. and Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition
so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undiges-ted food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large 50c case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

Practical Ventilating Hint.

The house should be ventilated in winter as well as in summer if the family is to be kept in good health.
Bedrooms, especially, should be provided with a free circulation of fresh air. One way to get fresh air in a bedroom without having a draft is to tack strips of cheesecloth across the top and the bottom of the window so that when it is opened in both places the fresh air will enter the room and yet, should there be a strong wind, its force will be broken by the cloth.

Must Be Persistent.

The art of convincing is never given to the man who is unwilling to persist in an effort to convince.

Stevenson's Criticism.

Robert Louis Stevenson once went to hear Charles Halle play the piano at the Queen's hall. After the performance Stevenson, in his black shirt, walked in silence out Regent street to Oxford circus. He stepped at Oxford circus and, in a slow, meditative voice, pronounced this excellent criticism on the English musician he had heard: "The manner of the elderly statesman at the piano was somewhat austere and chilling."

MONKTON'S SCHEME

By F. A. MITCHEL

"Winterhorne," said Mr. Monkton, proprietor and manager of Monkton's Monthly Magazine, "I want a story written on certain lines, and you are just the man to do the job. Get away from the city. You can't do such work in town. Go down to the Mascott House, in Florida, where you won't have anything to think of but your creation. Here's a check for your expenses going and coming, and I'll write my old friend Charlie Burton, the landlord of the hotel, to send me the bill for your keep."

Winterhorne was given the theme he was to work up and charged to find a real model for his heroine. He was much pleased at the prospect before him and started with a light heart. On the way down he tried to lay out a plan, but he found that plans usually came to him after he began to write, not before. The season had not yet opened at the southern resorts, and he found little to distract him at the hotel where he stayed. He was making a beginning when one morning after breakfast who should come up the steps from the hotel conveyance but Miss Febiger.

"For heaven's sake," exclaimed Winterhorne, "what brought you down here?"

"What brought you?"

"Monkton sent me down to write a story on a special plan—he's taken a desperate fancy to."

"He sent me down on the same errand."

They compared notes as to the character of the work each was to do and found they had been given different themes and different lines of treatment.

"I wonder," said Winterhorne, "what he sent us to the same place for?"

"I can't imagine."

"He's got some scheme on hand—something for a feature to attract attention to the magazine. And he said nothing about my being here?"

"No. He proposed this hotel because he wanted to patronize the landlord, who is an old friend of his. He was very busy when I came away, and I think he forgot about my being here."

"I have it!" said Winterhorne suddenly.

"What?"

"His scheme. Didn't he tell you to find some real model for your hero?"

"Yes, he did."

"And he told me to find some real woman for my heroine. His plan is to have me take you and you take me for a model without either knowing that the other is going so. He'll trust my announcement to that effect—just how he'll manage it I don't know—then publish the stories one immediately after the other."

"What! Give us away?"

"He'll probably use the stories under assumed names."

"Mr. Monkton is a very bright man."

"He'll gain thousands in circulation by this scheme alone."

The scribblers found the genial warmth more conducive to lounging than working. If they had hit upon the editor's scheme their having done so folled it. They sat together under the exuberant tropical foliage listening to the birds sing or on the sands, lulled by the music of the splashing waves. Now and again both of them, conscious of taking money for work that they were not doing, made spasmodic efforts to get something done. They agreed to humor their employer by taking each other for a model.

The season came and went before they brought their work to a finish. When they returned they submitted the manuscripts to the editor, who took them home with him to read. One day when they were both in the office he called them into his private room together and said:

"What have you two been doing down there in Florida? I sent you down for a purpose, but I don't see that anything has come of it."

"Indeed, Mr. Monkton," said Miss Febiger, "we divined your purpose and did the best we could."

"Divined my purpose, eh? What was it?"

"Why, you had a scheme to get two stories wherein the authors should take each other for a model."

"Oh, I did, did I?"

"I don't see what other purpose you could have had," said Winterhorne.

"Do you suppose I would have tried to rope you in with so thin a scheme as that? If I did I got most awfully sold. You've made Winterhorne out to be a prig, and he's made you talk like an idiot."

Both authors flushed at this.

"I didn't send you off for that purpose at all. I had a different one in view. You, Miss Febiger, have been trying to earn a living at scribbling, which you are not fitted for, and were breaking down. You needed a husband to support you. I concluded that Winterhorne would fill the bill and sent you to Florida to make a match. I'm pleased with the success of my scheme. Winterhorne permit me to congratulate you, Miss Febiger. I wish you happiness."

"For heaven's sake," exclaimed the former, "how did you get on to it?"

"How? Why, I sent a third author, a woman, to write you both up. She's got a story that will place Monkton's Magazine in the first rank of periodicals."

After a little squeal of surprise from Miss Febiger they all broke into a hearty laugh.
